In the 11th Internal Revenue District of Pennsylvania, Mr. E. F. Stem, of Easton, recently sought the appointment of Collector, in place of Mr. E. T. Foster, who was forced, upon examination into his official conduct, to resign. Mr. Stem was strongly recommended by prominent gentlemen belonging in the district and out side of it. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue and the Secretary of the Treasury both advised the President to appoint him. Mr. Cowan was willing he should receive the Commission provided he would pledge himself to support the President's Policy. Mr. Stem is poor. Formerly a printer and editor, he is now a clerk in the Treasury Department. But he declined to take the office on those terms. He said he should always treat the President with respect, but did not believe in his Policy of Reconstruction, and could not pretend to believe in it when he did not. By peremptory order of the President he was set aside. This is a case for people to reflect upoh who prate about the mercenariness of politicians. It deserves all the more consideration because it does not stand alone, but is one of hundreds now presented to the public.

The Fenians begin to suspect their leaders are endowed with less courage and honesty than falls to the lot of even common mortals. They are pressing two inquiries —what has become of the money generously contributed? and what is the meaning of the ridiculous farce on the northeastern border? If they get satisfactory answers, the outside public will be glad to participate in the revelation.

A meeting of soldiers favorable to the election of Gen. Geary was held at Philadelphia last Saturday evening. Gen J. T. Owen presided. A resolution was adopted requesting Gen. Hartranft, Chairman of the Soldier's State Central Committee, to call a State Convention as soon as practicable—say, on or about the tenth of May—to assemble in Pittsburgh.

The Union Men of Crawford County will nominate candidates for the fall election June 23d. The candidates are member of Congress, member of Assembly, one additional Law Judge, Sheriff, Prothonotary, Register and Recorder, Clerk of the Courts, Commissioner, Auditor and Coroner.

The tone of the newspapers, reported to be in the confidence of the Administration, destroys the hope, enkindled by the telegraphic announcements, that the President would accept the plan of reconstruction proposed by the Committee of the House of Representatives.

There is a rumor that the President advocates the calling of a National Convention to settle the issues now pending. Upon that the previous question would be demanded—which is, what States shall be represented in the proposed body?

The extension of the right of suffrage in England, to large classes of white folks now debarred participation in the government, is making as violent a commotion as would the direct proposition in this country to let the blacks vote.

It now turns out, as we conjectured it would, that the Government has not retained lawyers for the trial of Jefferson Davis. The public may as well settle down in the conclusion that he is not to be tried and punished.

The Crawford Journal denies the statement that the title to Allegheny College property is in doubt through Mr. Culver's failure. The College was incorporated before Mr Culver was born.

The Banking Committee of the House have come to a wise conclusion in reporting against authorizing more national banks. This will check expansion in that direction.

Confidence is expressed that the Congressional scheme of reconstruction will obtain a two-thirds vote in each of the Houses.

A mysterious epidemic has broken out, at Richmond, Va., among the fish in the canal and basin.

The Chicago Journal, (conservative,) accepts the Congressional plan of reconstruction.

SECRETARY SEWARD, RECONSTRUCTION AND MEXICO.

Decrease of the Public Debt.

THE AWARDS FOR BOOTH'S CAPTURE

The New York Collectorship.

New York, May 1—The Herald's special says: A casual conversation to-day between Secretary Seward and a gentleman from Virginia, may throw some light on the President's views concerning reconstruction and Mexico. Mr. Seward said he had lately received a letter which had been forty days on the way, advising him to act cautiously in the French and Mexican embroglio, because of a strong probability of a reconstruction of hostilities between the North and South. The writer assured Mr. Seward that so far as Virginia was concerned, there was no apprehension. The Secretary replied, "Not so far as any part of the country is concerned. The country has had enough to last it for a long time."

In view of the approaching hot and sickly season in the Capital, rooms are being fitted up for the President and his family at the Continental Hotel, long Branch, N. J. The family will probably repair there early, leaving the President to follow on the adjournment of Congress.

The public debt statement to be issued in a day or two, will show a decrease of about six millions during the month of April.

A memorial from Assistant Marshal O'Byrne and those employed under him, was presented to the House by Mr. Darling, asking for a change in the awards recently made by the Secretary of War for the capture of Booth and his co-conspirators. Great dissatisfaction very naturally prvails among those who, feeling themselves entitled to a share of the reward they are entirely ignored.

The Times' special says: The dispatch of last night to the effect that the Senate Committee on Commerce had unanimously agreed to report the name of Mr Smythe for confirmation as Collector of the Port of New York, turns out to-day to be at least premature, although I thought my authority was worthy of credit. The chairman of that committee, Mr Chandler, was to-day canvassing the feelings of the Honorable members of the New Jersey delegation, a few of whom are not favorable to Mr. Smythe.

Dismantling of Forts Completed.—Jeff. Davis.

Washington, May 1.—The dismantling of all the forts round Washington was completed to-day, the different garrisons having, by former orders, been directed to vacate all the earth works in and around the disgriet.

The Richmond Times demands that the same honors shall be paid to the rebel dead as are conferred upon the Union soldiers, and speaks of Jeff. Davis as the unhappy statesman.

The Herald's Fortress Monroe correspondent says that Jeff. Davis is very anxious for his release, and his health has perceptibly failed since his incarceration, and it is reported that he cannot live the summer through in prison.

The Rebel War Debt.

THE SPANISH-CHILIAN WAR.

Bombardment of Valparaiso

$20,000,000 WORTH OF PROPERTY DESTROYED

Particulars of the Affair.

MEETING OF BRITISH CITIZENS.

Blame Attached to British and American Admirals.

New York, May 1.—Valparaiso was bombarded by the Spaniards, and the town and $20,000,000 worth of property destroyed. Great blame was attached to the British and American Admirals for not interfering with their ships to prevent such wholesale destruction, instead of leaving the harbor.

The Panama Star's special correspondent, after commenting upon the bombardment of Valparaiso, which was defenceless, without a gun to reply or a vessel to stand by it, states that from fifteen to twenty millions worth of property is destroyed, nearly all belonging to British, American and other foreign merchants, including all the commercial ports of the town, Custom houses, Government buildings, &c.

The correspondent gives the following particulars of the bombardment: It is said that Men lez Nanez has issued orders from Madrid to destroy, burn and desolate to the uttermost of his power, all Chilian and Peruvian property on the coast, and that in pursuance of these orders, it was on the 27th of March that he sent into the commandant of Valparaiso, and to the foreign representatives, to notify them that he would bombard the city in four days. The four days he allowed for the removal of the sick, &c. Against this every foreign Representative protested in the most energetic manner. The British residents were promised the protection and interference of Admiral Denman and the English squadron. The American Commodore, Rodgers, promptly placed his squadron for co-operation against Spain should the threatened bombardment be attempted, and the Representative of France was equally ready to take the responsibility on his part of joining with the Americans and English, to prevent the sacrifice that was feared. But at the last, the English Admiral drew back. He said he could not interfere, especially officially, and that the British interests must look out for themselves on shore. Commodore Rodgers shrunk from undertaking active resistance to the Spanish fleet when the British Commander had receded from the position he had first taken up. Earnestly and most urgently did the Chilian Intendente, Senor Don Benevente Patrick and Commodore Rodgers, labor to save the town, but all in vain. While this was going on, time was lost to the new rais, and the day of the bombardment arrived, and the neutrals had still their property in the Custom House and their stores on the dist. The morning of the day of the threatened bombardment, Rodgers, Consul Pinney and Leander with the Devastation and storeship Nereus, left the bay to take anchorage outside. The Spanish squadron then began to get out of the way, and at about 8 A. M. the enemy's vessels began to take up positions over against the town. The Resolution was placed against the Central Railroad station, the Villa de Madrid and Blanca 1200 yards from the Custom House, the Vancouvera close in shore, to destroy the dwelling houses, and the Admiral's ship Numancia remained outside signalizing orders. At nine o'clock A. M. the Blanca opened fire on the Hospital, and to the time of "Viva la Rena." The others followed, each selecting some point on which to pour its shares of destruction. For nearly three hours the fire was kept up without intermission. At one o'clock P. M. the Numancia signalled to desist, and the vessels of the squadron drew off. The people of the town, who had retreated to the suburbs, finding all

REMOVALS FROM OFFICE.

There are some sincere individuals who suppose that by the terms of the Constitution, and the practice of the government, the tenure by which the whole body of office holders in this country hold their places, is the will of the President. A moment's reflection must satisfy every discriminating mind that this position does not comport with the theory of republican government, that so vast a power lodged in the hands of one man would be of pernicious influence on his character and conduct, and corrupting in its effects on the masses of the population, and in a particular manner, on that numerous class who aspire to the distinction and advantages of exercising authority. The framers of the Constitution saw all this, and provided against it.

The Constitution provides "that the President shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States, whose appointment is not otherwise herein provided for, and which shall be established by Congress; but the Congress may by law vest the appointment in such inferior officers as they think proper, in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments." Now, it must be plain to every fair-minded man that since comes before, and consent after, the nomination. The President has in the matter of appointment only one exclusive prerogative—that of nomination. The Senate has the right and duty to advise before the nominations are made, and to reject if they are unsatisfactory. When ever the President attempts to keep a man in office who has been rejected, he commits a serious misdemeanor. All other attempts by the President to evade or make void the concurrent authority of the Senate are highly culpable. Nor is this all. Congress can, two-thirds of each House concurring, pass a law taking nearly all participation in appointments out of the hands of the President, by devolving the selection of postmasters, revenue officers, and the like, upon the Federal courts in the respective districts, subject to such proper restrictions as may be prescribed. This shows it was the intention that Congress should be potential in regulating appointments.

This is the view steadily insisted on by the framers of the Constitution. Mr ALEXANDER HAMILTON, in the papers he contributed to the Federalist, maintains "that the consent of the Senate would be as necessary to displace as to appoint." And this construction covers the whole question of removals. The Constitution says, "the President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, by granting Commissions that shall expire at the end of their next session." The idea manifestly is that the President shall temporarily supply vacancies that happen by death, resignation, absconding, or other like causes. There is nothing here to warrant the President in turning any man out at his pleasure, and putting another man in. Nor is there any authority for this practice in any other clause of the Constitution or laws. The practice received its original impulse from General JACKSON, who claimed substantially that this power was given the President to enable him to reward his friends and punish his enemies. Hence, it follows that all appointments made to fill vacancies occasioned by removal are unconstitutional and void. The power of removal is not given the President. It was this fact that led HAMILTON to affirm that "independently of a special law, the President cannot fill a vacancy that happens during the session of the Senate."

The power of removal, doubtless, resides in the Government. But the President is not the Government, though he has sometimes arrogantly claimed to be. The Government is organized in three general divisions, and it takes the concurrence of all these to provide and determine how a man once inducted into office shall be got out before the expiration of the term for which he is appointed. An incumbent can be rightfully removed, not by the caprice or will of the Executive, but under the operation of law framed for that specific end.

THE SENATE OF MASSACHUSETTS has devoted considerable time during the current session to a project for connecting the railway system of the British provinces with that of New England, by means of what is known as the European and North American Railway, chartered by the Legislature of Maine. It is designed to start from the boundary line between Maine and New Brunswick, at which point it will connect with the line from St. John. From St. John a line of road is already in operation to Shediac, upon the Gulf of St. Lawrence, a distance of 108 miles. From thence a line is in process of construction to Pictou, 159 miles. Here are the celebrated coal mines.

Two ideas are involved in this scheme. One is to make considerable territory lying to the east or Boston, commercially tributary to that city. The other is to bring Pictou coal into competition with Pennsylvania coal in many of the New England towns. Steam is so largely taking the place of water, as a force for driving machinery, and coal has ruled so high for three or four years past, that certain capitalists think it wise to invite active competition.

The Joint Standing Committee on Railways and Canals have bestowed a thorough investigation on the matter, and report that, considering the sources of local and through business, the proposed road will not only meet the interest on the State bonds which may be issued to aid in its construction, but will prove a productive investment on its whole cost. This conclusion is fortified by a mass of facts, classified under appropriate heads. Portland and other municipalities have pledged much assistance, and if this report shall induce favorable action on the part of the Massachusetts Legislature, the success of the enterprise will be ensured.

THE NEW CONSTITUTION OF MISSOURI declares that "no property shall be exempt from taxation, except such as may be used exclusively for public schools, and such as may belong to the United States, to this State, to counties, or to municipal corporations within the State." In consequence, churches, educational and eleemosynary institutions have all been assessed. A good deal of feeling has been excited, and, at St. Louis, in defiance to the plain letter of the Constitution, the Board of Appeals almost unanimously erased these assessments from the list.

The custom of exempting from taxation properties devoted to religious, educational and eleemosynary uses, is of high antiquity. Great abuses have resulted from it, both in ancient and modern times. It has sometimes happened that a very large proportion of all the real properties in a nation has been held in this way. If the genius of the age, in this country, exempts us from this embarrassment, it is a matter for congratulation.

Practically, in the United States, it makes little difference whether religious, educational or charitable properties are exempted from taxation or not. Almost all our people are contributors to establishments for those ends; and the people as a body have the public taxes to pay. In either case the money comes out of the same pockets. If churches, colleges, seminaries and hospitals are taxed, other properties have a trifle less to contribute; if not taxed, other properties will have the rate of levy raised a little. The odds, in the long run, is not enough to get excited about.

IN ARKANSAS during the first quarter of the current year, the number of rations, or day's support, issued by the Freedmen's Bureau was as follows:

Month	To Whites	To Blacks
January, 1866	4,836	11,096
February	84,023	9,817
March	102,204	11,442
Total	241,063	32,355

Or nearly eight to whites to one to blacks.

That does not look much like giving the blacks a preference, or like supporting them in idleness, while the whites are compelled to work.

CONSERVATISM, true to its nature, recently attempted the assassination of the Emperor of Russia. The motive to the crime was not found in the inconsistency of imperialism, as an institution, with the rights of the people, nor in the malevolent or tyrannical use of power by the Emperor; but in the fact that the imperial authority had been exercised humanely, to liberate many millions of white people from slavery.

THE satellites of the President are aping the insolence of courtiers under a monarchy. Assistant-Postmaster General RANDALL coolly informed Senator HOWE, of Wisconsin, that "no man should eat President JOHNSON'S bread and butter who did not support his Policy." Do they think already at Washington that Mr. JOHNSON wears a crown?

GENERAL NEWS.

The ex-Confederate was shot through both legs, below the knee, the tibea of the right leg being broken. Though serious, his hurts are not dangerous. We believe the quarrel arose from politics. HUMOROUS.

"THERE he goes again," said Mr. Partington in the Legislature, as a member stood up for the fifth time to speak on the same question. "There he goes like a soda fountain, and just as fluid as water — now, Isaac, mind him and see if you can't second a speaker of the house of representatives sometime. I declare!" continued she, as a new burst of eloquence reached her ear, it does seem as if the mantelpiece of Daniel Webster had fell on to him, he's so bright."

An old Frenchman in Mobile who keeps a restaurant, lately labelled it "Restaurant de Paris," whereupon an Hibernian neighbor, of the female gender, in the same business, on the opposite side of the street, hung out her sign "Restaurant de Ireland." Up to the last accounts there had been no breach of the peace between the rivals, although the Frenchman was reported as much disgusted.

A gentleman praising the personal charms of a very plain woman, his friend asked him, "Why don't you lay claim to such an accomplished beauty?" "What right have I to her?" asked the former. "Every right by the law of nations," replied the other, "you being the first discovery."

A CONVALESCENT soldier in a hospital in Paris, while stretching himself exclaimed, "Oh God!" A young and very pretty Sister of Charity ran up and inquired, "What would you God should do to you? I am His daughter." The convalescent replied, "Accept me for his son-in-law."

"WHY do you drive such a pitiful looking carcass as that? why don't you put a heavier flesh on him?" said a traveler to a cart driver. "A heavier cost of flesh! By the powers, the poor creature can hardly carry what little there is on him now."

"WHO is that foreign lady with the low cut dress?" asked Quip of a bystander at a party the other evening. "That is Miss Chemise-off, a Russian Lady," and an appropriate name it is.

"AH, Mr. Simpkins, we have not chairs enough for company," said a gay wife to her frugal husband. "Plenty of chairs, my dear, but a little too much company," replied he.

Of the present New York editors, Henry J. Raymond writes well, but is in Congress now and does not like work to hard, Greeley is a furious worker, but just now gives his strength to his history of the American Conflict, and rushes into the Tribune office from the Bible Building late in the afternoon, throws a thing or two at the editors, and closes a column or two of scrip-work in as many hours. Thurlow Weed writes occasionally for the Times, but is old, and has had his day. Bennet does not write at all, but tells others, who imitate his style but have no particular force of their own, what to write. Mr. Marble is the leading writer as well as the working proprietor of the World. Bryant writes a good deal for the Post, but the largest share of the editorial drudgery is done, and well done, by chas. Nordhoff. The clearest, highest, and most forcible editorial articles that are furnished to the New York press, except the Tribune, the Post and Herald, are Weekly redistinguished above all others in this respect. Its brilliant page We suppose there must be as high an order of editorials is from the pen of G. W. Curtis, of talent for the production of editorials in New York as in London, and it should be sought out and employed.

THE most cheerful man confined in the Tombs, at New York, is Jenkins, whose defalcation created so much excitement in wall street last summer. He occupies a large cell in the front building, in what is known as the boys' prison. From his place of confinement he can look out upon Center street, a habit which he largely indulges in. He is exceedingly cheerful and says he is perfectly reconciled to his lot. Much of his time is spent in reading, while the luxury of smoking he is almost constantly blazing the most of which he buys. Books are his favorites, but his chief delight is Carlyle, whose writings, he says, have given him great comfort and consolation. He is exceedingly anxious that his trial should take place, but hopes to receive a light sentence, so that he may have an opportunity after the expiration of his term of imprisonment, to make ample restitution for all the wrongs he has done.

A CHANCE OF FORTUNE.—A poor Irish gentleman has, much to his suprise, become Earl of Harrington, being heir of the late Worsley Harrington, who died lately. When the great Earl of Chesterfield died the inheritance passed to a cousin of a very remote degree. The same thing has now happened in the line of the younger brother of the first Earl of Chesterfield, of whom Lord Harrington is the representative. The new Earl of Harrington's son, now Viscount Petersham, is an engineer by profession and education and highly esteemed by those who have had occasion to seek professional service from him.

Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take AYER'S PILLS, and thereby rouse the dormant energies, purify the blood, and let the bodily moves on unobstructed in health again. In short, whatever the functions of the body require vigorous activity, purify the same from the obstructions which make disease. A cold seizes somewhere in the body, and derange its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering and derangement. While in this condition, take AYER'S PILLS, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and commonplace complaint is also true in many of the deep seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar instructions and derangement of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly and many of them surely cured by the same means. None who know the virtue of these PILLS will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure, such as Headache, Foul Stomach, Dysentery, Bilious Complaints, Indigestion, Derangement of the Liver, Costiveness, Constipation, Heartburn, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Worms and Suppression, when taken in large doses.

They are Sugar Coated, so that the most sensitive can take them easily, and they are surely the best purgative medicine yet discovered.

AYER'S AGUE CURE.

For the speedy cure of Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fever. Also for the relief and cure of Diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malarious or Miasmatic country.

This remedy has rarely failed to cure the severest cases of Chills and Fever, and it has this great advantage over all other remedies, that it does not leave the complaint without injury to the patient. It contains no quinine or other deleterious substance, but drives the disease entirely out of the system, and whatever. Shaking brothers of the army and the west, this is the remedy for you. Avoid counterfeits.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1866.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Manchester Council.

A regular monthly meeting of Manchester Council was held on Tuesday evening, May 1st. Present, Messrs. Harper, Kirk, Matheral, Patterson and Burgess McCune.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

The Clerk read the ordinance changing the grade of Chartiers and Chestnut street.

Mr. Kirk moved the adoption of the ordinance.

Mr. Harper thought that the proposed grade would prove beneficial to the borough, but the change would work serious injury to a number of property holders on these streets, and he could not see his way clear to vote for the ordinance.

Mr. Kirk was of opinion that the good of the community at large should be consulted, rather than the temporary inconvenience of the few. The change would have to be made sooner or later, and it could be done now with much less cost than at any subsequent period. The Chairman thought it would be better to make the change now than hereafter.

Mr. Matheral thought that the change was absolutely necessary, and he was prepared to vote for the ordinance.

The yeas and nays were called on the adoption of the ordinance, and resulted. Yeas—Messrs. Kirk, Matheral and McCune. Nays—Messrs. Harper and Patterson.

The ordinance was adopted.

A motion was adopted to name the alley in the rear of Phelps' property, between Ohio and Sheffield street, "Miss Jane Alley," the alley running between Dixon and Adams street, "Grant alley," and that running from Sidwell street, (Allegheny,) to Chartiers street, to be called by the same name given to the continuation of the alley through Allegheny. Adopted.

The Clerk read the ordinance providing for the grading of Nixon street, between Beaver street and the railroad, and Grant alley, between Chartiers and Manhattan streets, which was adopted.

Mr. R. E. from the street Committee, reported no bids for the grading and paving of Laurel alley. The lowest bids were made by Messrs. McIntyre, McNaugher & Co., at $1 00 per square yard for paving and grading, at 40 cents per cubic yard.

Also, a proposition from R. Gillespie to grade Nixon street, and an alley between Nixon and Adams streets, at 30 cents per cubic yard.

Mr. Patterson moved that the ordinance relative to Laurel alley be amended so as to include the grading and paving of said alley from Beaver street to the railroad. Adopted.

The Street Commissioner, Mr. Stewart, was called upon for a report in regard to the cleaning of Beaver street, by the Manchester Passenger Railway Company. He stated that he had called upon Capt. Nountz, superintendent of the Company, who stated that the Company was under no obligations to keep Beaver street clean, as he had been informed. The Commissioner then waited upon the Solicitor, Mr. Bell, who advised him to clean the street and present the bill to the Company, and if they refused to pay to enter suit against them.

On motion of Mr. Kirk, the Commissioner was authorized to clean the street and hold the company liable for the cost.

Mr. Patterson presented a petition from sundry citizens, declaring the pond in front of General Robinson's property a nuisance, engendering sickness in the neighborhood—several cases of malignant fever having already been developed in the vicinity.

On motion of Mr. Matheral, the petition was accepted, and the street Commissioner was directed to remove General Robinson to abate the nuisance forthwith, and in case of his refusal to do so to proceed at once to have the work done at the cost of the owner of the ground.

On motion of Mr. Harper, the Street Commissioner was instructed to notify Mr. Stanton and Mr. Smith to remove the obstructions in the streets, or in their stead, dig and fill up the holes already made.

Mr. Kirk moved that the Ordinance Committee prepare an ordinance for the grading of Fayette, Hopkins, Isaac and Manhattan streets, and put the work under contract as soon as the grades can be ascertained. The motion was agreed to.

The Clerk read a petition from Mr. Hutchinson, asking for the erection of a gas lamp on the corner of Adams and Noble street. Referred to the Ordinance Committee.

On motion of Mr. Matheral, the Gas Committee were authorized to exercise the power in regard to the location of public lamps.

Mr. Harper moved that the Wharf-master be instructed to settle with the parties now in arrears for wharfage, under the arrangement with the Councils, and if they refuse or neglect to enter suit against them under the provisions of the ordinance. Adopted.

On motion Council adjourned.

Academy of Music.

If the opening night were a source of gratification to the lovers of the opera, the performance last night must have doubled that gratification. The only drawback to the full enjoyment as to the ability of the building to withstand the pressure of a large audience must now be forever set aside. Last night the audience was packing at least on the opening night, and the display of fashion was indeed dazzling. If one wants to see the beauty of Pittsburg, there is no place where they can find more finely satisfied than at the Academy so much for the audience.

Rossini's grand Opera of Wm. Tell was performed last night with a power that the fastidious part of the public of New York. William Formes appeared as Tell, and sustained that part in a very able manner. Miss Rivers made her first appearance here last night, and looked and sang superbly. Mlle. Dzinska as Albert strengthened her hold on the affections of the Pittsburgh public. Signor Italiani, having recovered in part from his recent severe indisposition, made his first appearance, and was loudly applauded. Of the other performers we need not think to speak, but can only say that each was in splendid voice, and rendered his part in the most admirable manner.

To-night Balfe's's magnificent Opera of La Paine Blanche will be presented. The merits of this Opera are too well known to need any comment. Those, however, who may not have chanced to hear it, and those who attend will experience a rich treat.

We would add that no fears need be entertained in regard to the safety of the building. The stories about in regard to its weakness are simply ridiculous, and we do not believe that an audience could be packed in it such as fill it to-night without danger.

Opera House.—The charming little protean actress Miss Lotta, made her debut to a crowded house last night, at the Opera House, and was cheered before the curtain rose. She is one of the most winning actresses on the American stage, and makes everybody her friend towards her and all the rest of mankind in the bargain. We would say more, but we see her after to-day duties would admonish susceptible young men to beware of her roguish eye. Before her engagement, the Opera House will regain much of its wonted prestige.

Pittsburgh Theatre.—Edwin Adams last evening appeared as Gilbert Brierly in the Ticket-of-Leave Man, to a good house, and performed that part with much credit. This evening he will give for the last time his admirable personation of the Stranger. On Wednesday he concludes with Hamlet. On Thursday Mr. Adams will take his farewell benefit.

Theatre, Noyes & Co.'s Grand Combination Circus, including a cavalcade of one hundred men and one hundred and fifty horses, together with a troupe of performing animals, is announced to exhibit in this city, commencing on Monday next.

The Great Consolidation.—Sam Sharpley's minstrels, Backus' minstrels, Combination, united in one entertainment, under the leadership of Sam Sharpley, will open at Masonic Hall to-night, continuing throughout the week.

Eds. Gazette: Allow me to state in reply to Rev. Mr. Loucey, that the only communication which I prepared for the press appeared over my own name, and that I neither wrote nor procured the insertion of the article signed "A Director." Reverend gentlemen ought at least to be truthful. W. W. DICKSON.

Nearly Drowned.—A lad named James Tull fell from a skiff yesterday morning, while playing with some other boys on the Allegheny river, above the Mechanic's street bridge. He was rescued by his companions in an almost insensible condition.

DIED.

ALLEGHENY CEMETERY.—A rural and most picturesque piece of Sepulture, situated on the opposite (Allegheny) north or Allegheny river, and accessible by the Ohio and Pittsburgh railroad, by taking Butler Road, and by the Allegheny and Perrysville plank road. FINANCE AND TRADE.

TUESDAY, May 1, 1866.

Gold has still further declined, being quoted in New York to-day at 135½. Government bonds firm, but without material change—1881s, 109½; 5-20s, 101½; 7-30s, 104¾; Certificates, 100.

Bank stocks are very firm, and held at extreme figures, and extreme views of holders has a tendency to retard operations. The Exchange National announces a dividend of five per cent. out of the earnings of the past six months. Bank of Pittsburgh, five per cent., and the Iron City six per cent. These are very handsome dividends, and will have a tendency to still further stiffen bank stocks.

The directors of the Western Insurance Company announce a dividend of fifty cents per share, upon each share of the capital stock out of the earnings of expired risks, for the last six months. This has been a remarkably hard year on insurance companies, owing to the great number of steamboat disasters, and it is very encouraging to see that they are able to pay their stockholders a dividend. The Western, during the past six months, has paid out about forty thousand dollars.

—There has been considerable ease in the money market for several weeks past, and the plethora of available funds seems to be constantly accumulating. Last week's call loans were steadily made on Government securities at 4 ₱ cent, and it is said that even 3 ₱ cent was accepted in some instances. Yet this remarkable state of monetary affairs produced no extraordinary speculation in the stock market, for the reason, doubtless, that operators generally are not satisfied that prices are likely to rise, but rather decline, in view of the early resumption of specie payments by the country. They are determined, therefore, to keep their funds well in hand, and loan out only for short dates, in order to meet any emergency that may arise. Staginant money markets and low rates of interest are unfavorable monetary symptoms. They are as sure indications of a speedy revulsion or depression in business as is the other extreme, which is so sure to follow, and which we term a stringency. It was quite natural that under these circumstances a large demand for loans would be found for the constant advance which we have been noting from day to day in the reliable securities of the government, and the inducements offered were specially decisive. The advance in the national stocks commenced about two weeks since, and has since continued, with scarcely the interruption of a single day. The impetus given to investment the currency obligations of the Government met with most favor, especially the compound-interest notes and seven-thirties. The former were bought in mainly by the national banks in huge sums, to be held as an interest-bearing legal-tender reserve. The effect of these purchases is seen in the swift rise in the price. The seven-thirties have been taken up largely by capitalists, chiefly for private parties, for investment purposes, in such offensive quantities as to reduce the available supply to very meagre limits, rendering quite difficult the execution of orders to buy, even at the high rates now current. The highest, however, that these notes ever commanded. The orders cannot be bought in round lots (dollar at a time stocks), and the amount of interest, which, in the instance of the second series, makes the absolute cost price of each hundred dollar note precisely 103 cents, is a matter of little consequence. The trading figures were eighty interest added. Leaving aside the interest item, the actual improvement in this particular national security holds out a profit of 23 months, or about one per cent a month.

—The Philadelphia Press, of Monday, says:

Five Twenties at the latest London dates were six per cent lower in England than here, and as the political situation in Germany, and the financial difficulties in France are unfavorable to any immediate advance in our securities in Europe, it would seem probable that this large difference may induce immediate shipments back, to be bought for in exchange. It is understood that importers have very generally deferred their purchases of foreign goods, in the hope that a cessation of bidding able to buy their gold cheaper on the disbursement of the interest on their duties, and some have borrowed exchange, paying three quarters of one per cent and hoping to buy it for return at lower rates for gold after the first day of May. Both causes will have for some time a marked effect in the custom-house bills, and the demand will be likely to produce increased firmness in the rates of bills. At the same time, about ten millions of interest on the public debt is due the 1st prox., much of which will be remitted in the form of bills, unless the rate of 10 days sterling should advance to over 109½.

—The Rochester Banks seem to be all winding up. The Democrat, of the 26th inst., gives notice of another, as follows:

For a year or two the past the Commercial Bank, in this city has been conducting its business, with the intention of closing its operations entirely. On Tuesday last it ceased to exist as a bank, and on that day the fact was duly announced in an advertisement to-day. At bankers due from it will be paid at the new banking house of Hammond & Hunter, and the circulation will be redeemed Bankers, &c., who have left valuables in its keeping are required to reclaim them.

—It is thought that the position of the common interest notes, which are by the banks as reserves, will doubtless render it impossible for the secretary of the treasury to obtain any considerable amount of them at current rates. Should this prove to be the case, and the issues to national banks will probably fill up the vacuum which will be caused by the retirement of legal-tender notes, as required by the loan bill.

Financial Matters in New York.

New York, May 1.—The demand for money is very moderate and readily met at 6@7 per cent. on call, with the supply largely in excess of the wants of brokers. The Banks are offering to-day to lend money for three to six months at 3 per cent. on good security. The cold market advanced during the day, and closed at 105@106. The failures in England, together with the warlike aspect of the German question tended to produce this rise.

The Assistant Treasurer to-day paid out $50,000 in gold as interest on the 5-20 bonds. The government list was lower this afternoon, on the 2-20 and 10-40 coupons. The recent rise in these bonds brought out a liberal supply and as the demand has abated, the market is unfeignedly droops. The market for exchange was very much excited to-day, with a large advance in rates. The market finally closed at 9@ for private bankers bills. The heavy failures in England have been the chief cause of this sudden and sharp advance.

The Scotia brought back a number of cotton bills and also some $125,000 drawn on railroad bonds negotiated on the other side. Cotton and commercial bills were almost unsaleable.

The Railway market was strong at the second regular and last call at 1 o'clock P. M., the highest point was reached.

RIVER, WEATHER, ETC.

The river continues to recede at this point, with seven feet six inches in the channel by the Allegheny marks, last evening. Telegrams from Oil City report three feet in the channel at that point, with prospects of rain. Here, considerable rain fell yesterday, and the indications last evening were favorable for a continuance of it.

There has not been a single transient arrival since our last report. The Pine Grove, from Cincinnati, ought to arrive here to-night, and the Citizen, from St. Louis, may be expected in to-morrow or next day.

The Emma No 3 cleared for St. Louis yesterday afternoon, with an excellent trip, having on board all the freight she could take, and quite a number of passengers.

The Lou Leni Leoti arrived and cleared for Parkersburg, and the Emma Graham left for Zanesville.

The Silver Cloud is on the marine railway undergoing repairs. The snag which sunk her, broke quite a number of timbers in the bottom of her hull, and it will take some time and money to have these replaced. Her freight, we are pleased to learn, was mostly secured, in pretty good condition—some of it was not damaged at all.

The Peerless left for Oil City last evening, with a very fair trip, and the Urilda and Echo arrived from the same point.

Capt. Ed. Evans, of the Westmoreland, and Mr. J. D. Young, clerk of the Maggie Hays, are both at home, having been granted leave of absence. The Hays and Westmoreland are laid up at Cincinnati, and both put recently arrived there from New Orleans. Capt. Evans is now residing on a farm, out near Perrysville, in this county.

The Kenton was announced to leave St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Monday, and the Importer was advertised to follow on Tuesday. Dodgkate Robinson was advertised to leave there for Missouri River on Monday.

The Armadillo and Lawrence left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Saturday last. The Nile arrived there on Sunday.

The neat and reliable Nora, Capt. H. H. Devinney, with Mr. Wm. Blockstock in the office, is announced to leave for Cincinnati and Louisville this evening, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind.

The Yorktown, Capt. G. W. Hibbert, is filling up rapidly for Memphis, and will be ready to leave to-morrow evening. This packet has recently been overhauled and repaired, and supplied with a full delivery of freight, and is in first-rate condition for business.

The Messenger, Capt. Jesse Dean, is filling up steadily for Memphis and New Orleans, and will soon be ready to take her departure.

We extract the following from the Cairo correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial:

The Monitor Manayunk made a trial trip yesterday, and although the Ohio is here at nearly flood hight and running with a current of nearly five miles per hour, she made the round to Mound city, eight miles, in one hour and twenty minutes. Returning, with the current, she made the same distance in thirty-two minutes. Her machinery works as smoothly as possible and gives entire satisfaction. The machinery is from the works of Messrs. Snowden and Mason, Brownsville, Pa. The officers of of the Manayunk are as follows: Thomas McElroy, Acting Master Commanding; Geo. W. Mead, Acting Ensign, Executive officer; Thomas McCausland, Acting First Assistant Engineer; S. Gragg, Acting Second Assistant Engineer. The Manayunk, Catawba, and Oneota will leave for New Orleans on Monday or Wednesday next, if they can be made ready.

The Mountain Boats.—Captain Williams, of the Mountain boat Peter Balen, writes to Captain Rhu on April 30th, at Omaha, and says: In the midst of a howling tempest, with water all over the lower banks, the "Peter" behaved herself like a duck, only a little scratch. I find we are drawing at the stern four feet, and at the bow two feet six inches, but we have fully one thousand bushels of coal and twenty cords of wood aboard. This line has been a God-send to all of us, and I only fear that we will soon get above it. I have begun to leave some of the boats behind me that left earlier than we, and several of them have faded quite out of view in the southern horizon, and if I am spared and nothing breaks, we shall overtake and pass others in the same way during the next ten days. Wood is costing us high—say six dollars per cord—but I hope it will be better above. It is reported that there are three or four boats up the Platte that are broke down or sunk. Capt. Kercheval and the passengers are all well and enjoying themselves.
